Messrs. O. P. Bowman, a prominent young man of Casey, and Pryor Young, Assistant Cashier of the Liberty Bank, came down last Saturday, the former to visit here and the latter at Red Lick.

Mr. D. H. Boyler and family bade their friends adieu last Saturday and left for Sacramento, Ky., where they will be located for some time. The many good traits of Mr. Boyler and his excellent family were mentioned in the News three weeks ago. In talking to Mr. Boyler he stated that it was impossible to tell how long he would be absent, but his voting place would be Columbia.

LOCAL JOTTINGS.

Have you spoken for your Thanksgiving turkey?

Oil your gun. The quail season opens Friday.

Judge W. W. Jones next court will be at Burksville.

The bird hunters will all be out next Friday and Saturday.

The work in the Metcalfe circuit court was completed in three days.

Columbia is not on a boom, but she is growing steadily and substantially.

The church in which Thanksgiving services will be conducted will be announced next week.

The Sunday-schools of this place met in Union communication at the courthouse last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Tim Collins has been confined to his bed for several days as a result of a fall from a wagon while hauling hay.

WANTED—Eight stout able men to grub and chop. Apply to W. G. Turner, 14 miles from Columbia on Glasgow road.

Thursday, the 28th of this month, has been set apart as a day of Thanksgiving. Services will be held in one of the churches in Columbia.

On the lot just above where Mr. Allen Pile is now building Mr. W. L. Walker will have a residence put up some time in the near future.

The Kentucky Division of the Daughters of the Confederacy will meet at Elizabethtown November 21 and 22. A full attendance is desired.

Mr. Allen Pile's new residence is in going up and the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible. It is located on a street leading to the M. & E. High School.

Rev. E. W. Barnett, of Jellico, Tenn., formerly pastor of the Columbia Baptist church, died Nov. 2, P. P. Walton's report, in this city, last Sunday night. The church was crowded with friends, as evidence that Mr. Barnett is highly appreciated here.

Mrs. Rollin Hurt entertained a number of her lady friends last Thursday evening. A delightful luncheon was spread and several hours happily spent.

The quail season opens next Friday, November 15th, and will continue until January 1, 1902. It is said that in some sections of the country birds are quite plentiful.

Mr. W. B. Cochran, of Liberty, who was the Republican candidate for the State Senate, was badly bruised in a runaway last week. The buggy was completely demolished.

Elds. Williams and Montgomery commenced a series of meetings at the Christian church last night. These two gentlemen have held a number of meetings recently, meeting with much success.

Eggers tailoring establishment, between second and third, Market street, Louisville, advertises in to-day's News. This firm makes first class work and guarantees a fit. When you visit the city call and get their prices.

W. G. Montgomery is in a meeting this week, at Little Cike. He will also begin a meeting at Milltown on Monday night after the fourth Sunday in this month, and at Chestnut Grove on Sunday night after the first Sunday in December.

Quite a number of new Louisville cards appear in our paper this week. The advertisers are all reliable men and respectfully invite you to call at their places of business when you are in the city for the purpose of making special purchases.

Mr. W. H. Hudson, of the firm of Hudson & Page, left Monday morning for Louisville with a car-load of hogs. The hog market is not very brisk, but the firm hopes to make some money on this lot. They sold a car-load of cattle in the Louisville market last week, but the prices were not very satisfactory.

It is rumored about town that several weddings will take place in Columbia between now and the holidays. This office has been given several "tips," but at present it is under obligations to keep perfectly silent. In due time the announcements will be made known.

The Courier-Journal, last Sunday, published a splendid likeness of Hon. H. H. Reynolds, the new Representative elect from Marion county. Mr. Reynolds married Miss Victoria Wallace, of Cane Valley, hence the Democrats of Adair county are very much gratified at his political success.

The wife of Mr. Thomas Burton, who lived in the White Oak country, died last Thursday night. She was about fifty years of age and leaves a husband and several children. The deceased was a member of the Baptist church, and had many friends in the neighborhood.

The Fourth year of The News closed last week and we now call on our subscribers to come forward and settle up. Many have been prompt to pay while many have neglected. It takes money to run our business and we ask all in arrears for the paper to attend to this without delay.

All parties who have books belonging to the Parmelee Library are requested to bring them in at once. When the books are all in a Librarian will be selected and until this is accomplished no books can be secured. Please attend to this. Several books missing.

C. S. Harris.

Henry Koehler & Co., one of the largest sash, door and blind houses in Louisville is advertising in The News for trade in this section of the State. It is an old established firm and handles first-class goods, selling as low as any other establishment furnishing the same character of work and material. If you are going to build write for prices, 12th & Broadway, Louisville.

Last week the Horse Cave High School received $1000 library the gift of Miss Helen Gould. The only requirement being that a good room should be set apart for its keeping. Miss Gould presented this library as a token of her appreciation of a large bouquet of wild flowers given her about one year ago by the children of said school. She was en route for Louisville and her train was side tracked at Horse Cave for 30 minutes at which time the flowers were presented.

Mr. A. D. Ross, of Louisville, who was the express messenger on the train between Louisville and Lebanon during the war, and who was on duty at the time the train was robbed by guerrillas, near New Hope, in 1863, was in Columbia last week. When the train stopped he suspected that it was the work of robbers, and he immediately took from the safe the bulk of the money, $10,000, which he saved to the company. Mr. W. H. Hudson, of this place, was a passenger, and he saved his money by turning it over to Miss "Dutch" Sanders.

A few days ago we had an occasion to pass Cane Valley and two things were very noticeable. The store house in which Mr. Sam Banks did business so long was vacant and also the one which had been occupied by Mr. A. H. Budd for many years. We were told that both of these gentlemen had retired from business. The business of Cane Valley is now centered in this end of town, where Ike & Massie have their store. A great many horses were killed close by and from the number of people who noticed in their store, we concluded they were having a good run of trade.

Gone to His Reward.

This week we are called upon to chronicle the death of one of Adair County's best known citizens—Eld. F. C. Shearer, who died at his late residence Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. About four weeks ago he was taken suddenly ill while returning home from town and had to be lifted from his horse. In a few hours he was removed to his residence and his condition gradually grew worse until the end came.

The deceased was a man for whom every body had the utmost respect. For the past thirty-five years he had been a minister of the Christian Church, and for the last quarter of a century he preached for different churches in Adair County. He was zealous in all his work and what he did was done in the fear and admonition of the Lord.

The deceased was sixty-eight years old and was a native of Wayne county. In 1856 or '7 he entered college here; became acquainted with Miss Nannie Trabue, and they were subsequently married. The first years of his married life were spent in Wayne county, returning to Adair after the close of the war. The fruits of this union were five children, three sons and two daughters, all of whom are living.

Mr. Shearer's first wife died about ten years ago, and three years thereafter he was married to Miss Mary Burton, of this place, who survives without issue.

Funeral services were held at the Christian Church, this city, Monday afternoon, conducted by Eld. Z. T. Williams, many friends being present in token of the respect they had for one who was loyal to his neighbors and true to his God.

Mrs. Amelia Damron Dead.

Last Friday morning the citizens of this community were surprised to learn that Mrs. Amelia Damron, wife of Mr. Edy Damron, was dead. She was one of the best known women in Adair county, and the sympathy of every body goes out to the aged husband and surviving children. Mrs. Damron had been sick for several weeks, but her illness was not generally known, and only a short time before she died was her condition considered serious. She was a daughter of Mr. "Clever" Jones, deceased, and was the mother of Mrs. W. E. Frazer, Mrs. L. T. Neat and Mr. Asure Damron. She was about sixty years old. Mrs. Neat was with her mother when the end came, but Asure and Mrs. Frazer were absent, the former being in Missouri and the latter en route home from that State.

No death has ever occurred on Green river, where the deceased so long resided, that created more profound sorrow. She was kind to every body and every body was her friend.

Religious services were held Friday and the interment was in the Damron cemetery, many friends being present.

A Card of Thanks.

We appreciate in the fullest and truest sense, the kindness and aid so freely given us by the people of Columbia and vicinity in our sore affliction. Truly we are thankful and will ever cherish the many expressions of sympathy and the substantial aid received. We thank Dr. J. H. Grady for his constant care and medical aid.

M. A. and Maripha Sutherland.

Mr. J. W. Hutchings, who arrived from New York, two weeks ago, has contracted with Page, Hurt & Stults for another big lot of staves and the Company will at once commence getting them out. You can hardly miss the timber from Adair county and buckers and saw-mills will be kept busy for many years to come.

In transferring the Columbia Roller Mill property to Mr. Myers, of Greensburg, there are several houses and lots that do not go with the sale. The strip of land the Company purchased from Mrs. Coffey was retained and a street will be opened and town lots laid off. Mr. Claud Hurt, it is said, will open a street along side his property giving a clear passage from the bridge to the Somerset road.

The old reliable Pickett Tobacco Warehouse has a card in our paper this week. There is no better house in Louisville than the Pickett. It is perhaps the oldest establishment of the kind in the city and by fair dealing and close attention to business, has built up a very large trade. Mark your hogsheads "Pickett House," Louisville. Four months' storage free.

On last Sunday, November 10, a surprise dinner was given to Mr. C. C. Squires, father of Mrs. J. Z. Pickett and Mrs. S. W. Debooney, of this place, it being his seventy-first birthday. He received many presents and a more excellent dinner was never spread. There were four generations present, seventy in all, and they all departed saying they never enjoyed a day more.

A NICK.

There has been much talk of late about town lots being scarce, and that many buildings would go up if situations could be secured. Mr. J. N. Coffey and Hon. George Neel have both informed the News that they would sell four or five lots fronting Greensburg streets to parties who will agree to erect good substantial buildings. We hope they may find ready bidders.

There will be preaching at the following places next Sunday: T. E. Walton, Ebenezer; W. S. Dudgeon, Pile school-house; Z. T. Williams, Creelsboro; W. H. C. Sandidge, Union; J. P. Roach, Price's creek; T. Huffaker, Pleasant Hill; W. P. Gordon, Cane Valley; T. L. Hulise, Elroy; J. P. Van Hoy, Tabor; W. B. Cave, Columbia.

Mr. S. H. Murrell, Cray Craft, has sent to this office a beet measuring 22 inches in length.

The attention of our readers is called to the "official court" made by Russell & Murrell in to-day's News.

The Bear Head Brand Fertilizers from 90c to $20 per hundred at R. W. Hart's, Gadsbury, Ky., or Columbia, Ky.

Mr. L. C. Hurt sold to Parson & Moss, last week, a town lot containing a little over one acre, and situated near the Roller Mill, for $135.00.

FOR SALE—One square second hand piano. Will sell cheap. Address Miss Lena Grissom Bliss, Ky.

Mr. Coleman, a deputy United States Marshal, is again in the county for the purpose of running in those charged with violating the revenue laws. On his last trip he made eight or ten arrests in Adair and Russell counties.

If United States Marshals would convince the people that they are really doing good work in breaking up moonshine distilleries in this section they must haul the still to Columbia, if a successful raid is made in Adair county, and chop it to pieces upon the square, as Marshals did some years ago. We do not charge that frauds have been perpetrated, but when a report comes in that a distillery has been destroyed and no such thing has been done, and in two weeks a fire is started under a still at the same place, it looks mighty suspicious and creates much unfavorable talk. To avoid the unfavorable comment bring the stills to the county seat and do the chopping, and the officers will have the backing of all good citizens.

Horses are still worth something and the rich have not given them up altogether as the following prices paid in a Chicago sale show. The first fifteen horses sold averaged $2,300 a head and the first nineteen brought $50,000. In all 49 head were sold. For a four-in-hand team of bay geldings H. T. Leeds, of Chicago, paid $10,750. Thos. W. Lawson, of Boston, paid $7,500 for a brown gelding and $1,700 for a handsome chestnut saddle horse. Florenz Ziegfeld, acting for Anna Held, gave $1,750 for a pair of brown geldings. W. H. Moore paid $6,800 for a pair of chestnut carriage horses. A Lowther paid $2,300 for a dapple gray gelding. Dr. Wright bought a pair of roan carriage horses paying $4,000 for them. S. J. Valenty gave $1,350 for a bay gelding.

We do not remember the time when the merchants of Columbia had larger and finer stocks of goods than they have bought and have now on display in their stores. We have talked with these men and find that they all tried to get the best there was in the market and at the same time they bought these goods at very low prices. There is no need in the world that our people should at any time go to Louisville or any of the cities in search of fine goods or cheap goods. They are right here at home where the people ought to spend their money. We do not know of a town that has a better or more honorable class of merchants than we have right here in Columbia. We do not believe there is one of them who will not treat his customers right.
